

Do you believe that managing citizens' identities across the state enterprise is a vital component to successful citizen services?

66% A. Strongly agree

22% B. Somewhat agree

2% C. Disagree

2% D. Strongly disagree

7% E. How long before I can hit the beach?

State Attendees Only: What is your state doing regarding Enterprise Identity Management (EIdM)?

A. A project is underway that involves both front-end features (single sign-on or password provisions, etc.) and back-end integration with participating agencies' systems

29%

B. A project is underway that involves front-end (single sign-on, password provisioning, etc.)

23%

C. An EIdM project is being planned

13%

D. We are still exploring the possibility of EIdM

26%

E. None of the above

10%

State Attendees Only: What is the most significant barrier to EIdM in the states?

21% A. Funding

52% B. Agency buy-in/cooperation

14% C. Technology-related concerns (agency legacy systems, for example)

5% D. Lack of leadership

7% E. Lack of interest

Corporate Attendees Only: What is the most significant barrier to EldM in the states?

10% A. Funding

32% B. Agency buy-in/cooperation

5% C. Technology-related concerns (agency legacy systems, for example)

42% D. Lack of leadership

11% E. Lack of interest

State CIOs Only: Do you think that REAL ID Act implementation is an opportunity to embark upon or enhance state Enterprise Identity Management Initiatives?

35% A. Yes, REAL ID is an excellent opportunity for EIdM

39% B. Possibly, the REAL ID—EIdM connection should be explored

6% C. REAL ID deals with driver's license reform, so why are we talking about it?

19% D. Undecided