

42. Has your organization undertaken any initiatives for transparency in government?

- 26% a. Yes, we have a statewide project underway
- 45% b. Yes, but it is limited to certain agencies or offices
- 7% c. We're in the planning stages
- 12% d. No, but we're thinking about it
- 10% e. Our information is clear as mud

43. CitiStat, the internationally acclaimed real-time performance measurement and management accountability program, was born in Baltimore under then-Mayor Martin O'Malley in July, 2000.

32% a. $20,000

40% b. $200,000

23% c. $2,000,000

4% d. $20,000,000

44. Elliot Schlanger, Secretary of Maryland's Department of Information Technology, was one of the original founders of the CitiStat program in the City of Baltimore and continues to shape the StateStat program under Governor Martin O'Malley. He is also a regular panelist at the agency accountability meetings.

How many "Stat" meetings has Elliot attended?

17% a. 359

23% b. 1,101

31% c. 1,831

29% d. 2,259

45. What type of information do you believe is most important to be shared with citizens?

- 36% a. Neighborhood Crime
- 3% b. Unemployment Data
- 15% c. High School and College Metrics
- 16% d. Government Expenditures
- 26% e. Agency Performance
- 3% f. Public employee salaries

46. How much meeting time should a chief executive in the public or private sector devote to performance reviews each week?

- 6% a. 15 minutes
- 44% b. One hour
- 35% c. Four hours
- 15% d. Eight hours