

NASCIO Conference Policies

NASCIO members greatly benefit from growing levels of communication and participation within the association. Increased participation in NASCIO events, however, makes it necessary to implement the following guidelines in order to preserve a carefully cultivated climate among the membership and conference attendees.

- Attendees, vendors, sponsors and media partners are prohibited from holding events or hospitality suites that may conflict with NASCIO conference sessions, meetings and social events. There must be a thirty minute buffer from the end of our event and the start of your event.
- No marketing material may be distributed at NASCIO conferences except approved sponsor materials.
- NASCIO requests that gifts or other amenities are not sent to the hotel room of any public sector attendees.
- Registered attendees are not permitted to bring guests to the conferences.
- NASCIO does not allow for badge sharing and attendees must wear their badges at all times.
- Co-sponsoring of NASCIO conferences is not permitted.
- NASCIO conferences do not have trade show or exhibit space for sponsors. Instead we invite corporate members to sit side-by-side with their government business partners and discuss issues facing the information technology field.
- NASCIO will not use sponsor advertisements or other materials that criticize other corporate members.
- Conference rosters are not to be harvested, sold to others, and incorporated into any type of database, used to generate mailing lists, or employed for any promotional purpose.
- If you record with mobile devices, such as Smartphones, tablets and Google Glass, please be respectful of other attendees' privacy.
- NASCIO reserves the right to revoke the credentials of anyone whose behavior is disruptive to the meeting and associated events.
