

NASCIO MEDIA/PRESS REGISTRATION TERMS & CONDITIONS

- Media passes are issued to cover the conference and interview CIOs. Media passes will not be issued for activities outside of this scope. Media passes are granted only to those reporting on the conference and not to others within a media company, such as account executives, etc.
- While photography at all sessions open to the media (including common areas) is permitted, filming of sessions is not permitted. Filming in common areas for B-roll, interviews, etc. is ok.
- Registered State CIOs and other state attendees should not receive invitations that take them away from conference programming. Therefore, members of the media are expressly prohibited from holding events/hosted meetings that run concurrently with NASCIO conference sessions or any conference related events. There must be a 30-minute buffer from the conclusion of any NASCIO event and the start time of your event. NASCIO does not endorse companion events.
- NASCIO media/press attendees are expressly prohibited from holding interviews during NASCIO conference sessions—breaks, meals, etc. are preferred.
- No marketing material may be distributed via the conference mobile/web app or any other electronic means during the Conference.
- Co-branding or use of the NASCIO logo is not permitted.
- NASCIO conference rosters may not be harvested, sold to others, incorporated into any type of database, used to generate mailing lists or employed for any promotional purpose.
- Conference attendees may not to exceed the number of registrations permitted and registration allotments cannot be transferred to another entity or brand.
